F/W 2022-23

01

BODY

In a period of interpersonal relationships that are difficult to weave or cultivate, of real or induced distances, of prohibited physical contacts, our body and the image we have of it are heavily conditioned. This first theme tells of a body in metamorphosis, that is expressed through the visual disciplines and the most interesting and relevant events in these elusive times. The theme emphasizes the importance of physical and individual expressiveness in a moment of great containment like the current one.

SPACE

Our houses are transforming into places of life, work, meeting and leisure. In this theme, the idea of space merges with that of the body, creating an idea of architectural and spatial fashion, in close symbiosis with the environment in which we live or we are. This new organization of the space-wardrobe will also allow us with imagination to evade the domestic ambits, to which we are most bound today. Through the imagination.

DEVICE

The transformation of spaces and the interpenetration between space and body lead to transformation of the objects we use in our daily life. The objects that furnish our homes will be multifunctional and will consider the different needs that they will have to fulfill during the day. The disassembly of the garments will allow us to take care of different tasks during the same day, without changing. Also and above all in function of a sporting activity that we will perform more and more in home. Everything is in transformation.
